

Agentis Software Announces Business Expansion Plans for Denver, CO Operations

Appoints Seasoned Executive To Manage Midwest Region

WALNUT CREEK, CA – January 12, 2005 — Agentis Software today announced that it has opened a sales and support office in Denver, CO, expanding its business operations into the Midwest. Ryan Pastian has been appointed Regional Manager for the Midwest. "Denver is a strategic hub for business activity," said Bradley Killinger, Vice President of National Accounts for Agentis Software. "This appointment strengthens the company's ability to drive growth and establish key partnerships that will increase our market position in this region. Ryan's knowledge of the market and complex solution experience marks a significant investment and commitment by Agentis to this growing market."

"Ryan is a proven team builder and motivator, with the right skills and experience to lead the expansion of our business in the Midwest," said Killinger. "His expertise will be crucial as we expand our sales team and further extend our customer base. We're confident Ryan will help us accelerate Agentis's growth and we're delighted to have him join the team."

"Agentis's technology transforms the economics of building intelligent, adaptive applications," said Pastian. "Agentis AdaptivEnterprise™ Solution Suite provides goal-oriented application modeling, execution, and management, enabling enterprises to leverage the value of their assets to build more innovative products. I am excited to join Agentis and establish a permanent presence for the company in the Denver area."

Ryan comes to Agentis with a strong track record in technology services and has worked with many of the top companies in the US. Ryan brings more than 10 years of experience in sales management to Agentis. Most recently, Ryan was a Business Development Executive at Advecta, where he established and exceeded a multi-million dollar revenue plan. Prior to Advecta Ryan was a District Manager at ADP where he established a remarkable track record of consistently exceeding growth targets.

According to Pastian, "Agentis represents an unparalleled opportunity for clients and business partners. Agentis is a progressive company, backed by a solid strategy and a unique enterprise solution for application creation, deployment, and management. I've studied the other solutions extensively. Agentis AdaptivEnterprise™ is the industry's premiere enterprise software solution for adaptive business solutions."
